Whitney Ingram, the assistant general manager of Clearwater underground water conservation district (UWCD) came to describe what this regulatory agency does. Clearwater performs a wide array of functions regarding groundwater such as well permitting and enforcing, water testing, well monitoring, scientific research, education and outreach, as well as drought monitoring. We also learned that there is a lot of information and resources to be had regarding groundwater on the Clearwater website : <https://cuwcd.org/>

Continued prayers for the Wells and Gosney families on the recent passing of Lions Roy Wells and Bob Gosney.
