What Happened at the Meeting

Patrick White, founder of Vulcan Treasure Society, visited our club and spoke of treasure hunting with metal detectors.

The Vulcan Treasure Society is a group of special individuals who love metal detecting. What separates them from the other "treasure hunters" is that they plant cool stuff for other detectionist to find.

detectionist to find.

The oldest item Patrick has found is a 1932 penny. The most valuable, a gold ring from a University in the northeast. Patrick thinks the ring has about a $50 value and has tried to discover the true owner in hopes of returning it. No luck yet.

The Vulcan Treasure Society has a group Facebook page and several videos on YouTube.
