Dirk Weisiger, is an author, travel trekker, trip roper and story teller and came to speak with the Temple Founder Lions Club about his 14 month, solo motorcycle journey from Austin down to the tip of Argentina.

As a teenager, and through the years of building a successful business in the insurance industry, Dirk has always enjoyed speaking to groups, spinning tales (and ropes) and offering lessons he has learned in adventures of life and business. He is a true adventurer, has travelled to five continents and even climbed Mount Kilimanjaro. Dirk tried to live his own movie and inspires others to do the same. His journeys have solidified his belief that making new friends is the best part of travel.

He went on to detail the many aspects of his trip to South America and showed us some nifty rope trips whilst spinning his tales.

Please check out his book, Leave Tomorrow, or visit his website, www.dirkweisiger.com, for more details.
