JUNE 10, 2008

Our annual induction and awards banquet was held at the Cyclone Corral on June 10 and over eighty Lions and spouses attending.

Lion District Governor John Hopkins and his wife Sherrie were our special guest with Lion Hopkins induction all directors and officers for the coming year.

Lion John Conner presented numerous awards. Many thanks to Lion Conner for serving this past year as our President. We had a great year and accomplished many things. Lions George White and Gary Gosney performed as usual and after doing an extensive background check on our incoming president decided he might be qualified to serve. Lion Allen Lueck was our master of ceremonies and Lion Jim Hunter led us in the singing of America, Lion Alicia Winegar led the Pledge of Allegiance and Lion Grady Tyroch offered our invocation.

After all awards were presented and Lion John Conner ended with his closing remarks, Lion J Brown was installed as President (or Lion King) for the coming year.

Lion President Brown started his remarks with noting a few new rules he would like to implement during the coming year. First Boss Brown wants to add a little dignity to the club and believes that men should wear coats and ties to meetings and that ladies need to wear heels. Also Boss Brown thinks membership should rise when he enters the room at meetings. Also Boss Brown would like to be addressed as "Your Majesty"

In a more serious note Boss Brown wanted to place the emphasis this coming year on the 4-R's.

REFLECT

Boss Brown wants us to reflect on our long proud 90 years of history. Our footprint in the community is Lions Park, Lions Pool and Lions baseball fields. Our influence is seen in our second to none annual show (69 years), our 1st game lasagna supper, and our golf tournament, Texas Lions Camp and for eyeglasses. Boss Brown asks are we still connected to the community.

REFOCUS

The questions were asked, what is our purpose for being an organization, what would we like to do as an organization, what would we like to be known for and where should we put our energies as a club.

RECONNECT

Its time for our club to reconnect where ties to the community have been broken and strengthen our ties where they still exist. Boss Brown wants to reconnect with the community and be more "NOTICEABLY" involved in our community. Boss Brown has some good ideas on how to accomplish this and more information will be coming soon.

REDEDICATE

Boss Brown challenges all Lions to rededicate themselves to the Club, our community and to each other.

In closing Boss Brown told us this coming year would be a wild ride and invited all Lions to join in.
