THIS WEEK'S PROGRAM

John Wayne Southerland, founder of back to school extravaganza, explained what this great local nonprofit does in our community. For the past 11 years they have been providing a unique shopping spree experience for impoverished K-12th grade children to purchase much needed clothing and school supplies. The organization has provided for over 2000 students to date. This allows children to practice budgeting skills while focusing on the importance of salvation through Jesus Christ, obedience, and paying it forward.

Continued prayers for Lion Dr. Xenakis and pending diagnostics, and for more rain.

Matthew 25:40

"The king will reply, 'Truly I tell you, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did for me.'"
