Did you Know?

You probably knew that most Presidents-elect take the oath of office with their hand on a bible, but did you know that John Quincy Adams did not? Adams used a law book instead that contained the Constitution.

It is common for Presidents-elect to say, "So help me God" at the end of their oath of office. Did you know that the Presidential oath of office does not contain that phrase?

What Happened at the Meeting

Camp Dreamcatcher.

Kids with cancer want to feel "normal". That's why McLane Children's Scott & White offers Camp Dreamcatchers summer camp each summer. This camp allow them, along with their brothers and sisters, to enjoy a normal summer camp experience providing the necessary specialized medical care, said Debbie Fendrich and Jenny Damron.

Camp Dreamcatcher is held each summer at a facility called Camp for All, located in Burton, Texas.

Camp Dreamcatcher serves all Pediatric Hematology/Oncology patients, between the ages of 6 and 15, who receive their treatment at McLane Children's Scott & White.

Being with other children, campers with cancer/blood disorders and their brothers or sisters, will make them feel like "one of the team". The camp is designed to meet many different needs. The staff is trained to work with children of all kinds and many counselors are cancer survivors themselves. Camp provides an opportunity for a child to learn to deal emotionally with what they have been through or what they are going through by interaction with each other.

Camp for All is a 206 acre property that has two large lakes and more than 120,000 square feet of building space, including a main lodge with health center, dining hall, kitchen and gathering hall.

In the summer of 1999, Camp Dreamcatcher took 23 patients to camp. Currently, there are between 95-105 children that attend camp each year.
