Children's Advocacy Central Texas

Brittney Eiklor

May 18, 2022

The Children's Advocacy Center of Central Texas (CACCT) began its existence in 1997 when George Moffat, a former Bell County Sheriff's Office investigator recognized the need for a child-friendly interview room where interviews of young victims could be conducted. A space at the Juvenile Detention Center was donated for this purpose. The vision of the center continued to grow and eventually, with the help of former Bell County attorney investigator, Jack Mazzucca, and various dedicated board members, the Children's Advocacy Center was created.

Today, the center is expected to serve more than 850 children through approximately 5,000 specialized services. The agency budget has grown from $89,000 in 1999 to almost $950,000 in 2020. To date, we have served more than 10,000 children and their families in Bell, Coryell, and Milam County.

Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery trial when it comes upon you to test you, as though something strange were happening to you. But rejoice insofar as you share Christ's sufferings, that you may also rejoice and be glad when his glory is revealed.

1 Peter 4:12-13
